500 IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

D. O. Cunningham, a Christian missionary at Bilaspur, India, writes: "Most of the month was spent touring among the villages. We could baptize whole villages if we had Christian men to put into the villages to care for the converts. Our Sunday Schools averaged 500 per Sunday during the month. I conducted one funeral and had one wedding in that time. Our daughter Hazel has begun to walk a little. The Father has been very good to us and we are very happy."

"It is the universal experience that the person who begins to tithe grows in vision and in grace."—Bishop H. Hughes.

WILL BEGIN WORK ON C. & O. IMPROVEMENTS

The extensive improvements to be made by the C. & O. railway at Russell are to be started immediately, according to the following from Sunday's Ironclad:

"Work will begin Monday on the big 65,000 yard excavation at Russell, with Contractor Sellers, of Louisville, Ky., in charge. Contractors Steele and Boggess have sub-contracts.

The excavation is to be fifteen feet deep and will provide for a bed for the new yard tracks to be located on the southeast side of the present C. & O. yards at Russell. The contract is quite an immense one and involves a large sum of money.

Those who are in a position to know say that the plans are now in the hands of the company for the most modern car shops in the country, are being revised, and that it will not be many months before there is pronounced activity on this matter.

The yard excavation will require several months for completion."

SUITCASES, ONLY, WILL NOT BE SEARCHED BY RAILROADS

Charleston, W. Va., June 6—Railroad companies operating in West Virginia will take advantage of the finding of the supreme court that it is not illegal for passengers to carry intoxicants as personal baggage only to the extent that the suitcases and other luggage of passengers will not be searched. Announcement has been made by both the Kanawha and Michigan and Chesapeake and Ohio officials that they will assist the department of prohibition in curbing the efforts of bootleggers and others transporting whiskey into the state for illegal purposes. Special officers on both of these roads have been instructed to assist the prohibition officers in every way possible and not to allow anyone to carry labeled whiskey as baggage. These companies will operate under a ruling of the interstate commerce commission that personal baggage includes only wearing apparel and toilet articles.

The twister there traveled from the southwest to the northwest, striking the city suburbs, going across the valley and inflicting the heaviest loss of life and property on Bailey avenue, where nearly all the dead and injured were picked up.

Many handsome homes on Northwest street, in Jackson, and in the surrounding neighborhood were also wrecked. The National Refrigerator Company there suffered a loss of more than $30,000, according to a statement made by the local manager, C. H. Johnson.

The storm struck several places in Holmes County, Mississippi, inflicting property damage placed at many thousands of dollars, uprooting large trees, tearing down barns, fences and out-buildings.

The list of dead at Jackson follows:

Mrs. Jelks, white, killed in home on Bailey avenue.

Walter Demott, 16 years old, white, killed in residence on Bell street.

K. Heckley, negro.

Four negro children found dead in yard of J. U. McKay, names unknown.

Five negro men, names not known.

The best estimates available placed the property damage there at $300,000. Not 1 per cent of the loss is covered by storm insurance. The heaviest loss was to the north and middle wings of the state institution for the deaf and dumb where there were no fatalities at this place was due to the fact that the 200 pupils left Friday after the closure of the annual session and the dormitory was vacant.

In Jackson and vicinity 250 houses were demolished.

Four persons are known to have been drowned and 25 or 30 others, mostly negro deckhands, are missing and are believed to have gone down when the Lee Line steamer Eleonore capsized last night in the Mississippi 20 miles north of Memphis. An officer of the boat walked to Memphis today with the news.

The Eleonore tied up last night in a remote spot to escape the tornado. A heavy gust of wind drove the craft into the bank and it overturned. Many of those aboard were in the cabins and between decks at the time. A relief vessel left tonight for the place of the accident.

The Eleonore was a small vessel. Three white persons and two negroes were killed in Dallas County, in the south-central part of Arkansas. At Hot Springs four were killed and eight injured. Three are known to have been killed near Cabot, between Little Rock and Judsonia.

A white woman was killed and 15 were injured at Greenland, in Washington County, in the northwestern part of Arkansas.

Water, which flooded the lowland in the northern suburb of Wichita, Kan., following the five-inch rain, is receding today.

There was no loss of life and only small property losses there.

APPALLING LOSS

More Than Hundred Persons Are Killed When Cyclones Hit Mississippi Valley; Loss May Exceed Seven Million Dollars.

Little Rock, Ark., June 6—More than 100 persons are dead and hundreds injured as the result of a series of cyclones which swept death and desolation through Missouri, Arkansas and Mississippi late yesterday afternoon.

The death list is growing as wire communication is being re-established, and reports of property and crop damage are thought to exceed $7,000,000.

The dead reported include the following:

Heber Springs, 25; Poplar Bluff, 30; Judsonia, 12; Hot Springs, 4; Forest City, 4; Cabot, 5; Delark, 5; Morrilton, 2; Fayetteville, 5; Little Rock, 1; Tuckerman, 4; Greenland, 3; Red Fork, 9; Fordyce, 5; Germantown, 1; Blackville, 1; Baucum, 1; Jackson, 12; Dexter, 16; Newport, 2; Russellville, 1; Moorehead, 4; Memphis, 4.

The cyclone broke about 4 o'clock in the southwestern part of Arkansas and swept eastward and north, devastating towns, villages and farms which stood in its path. Reports have not been received from scores of small towns along the path of the tornado, and it is believed that when these reports are given out the death toll will be increased.

Thirty or more persons were killed and at least 75 were injured when the storm caused damage to crops and buildings estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars at Poplar bluff, Mo.

At Jackson, Miss., 12 persons were killed and 65 injured, many seriously when the cyclone cut a path from 50 to 100 yards wide through that city.

Nearly 250 homes were damaged, many of them completely wrecked. The State institution for the Deaf and Dumb was damaged.

The twister there traveled from the southwest to the northwest, striking the city suburbs, going across the valley and inflicting the heaviest loss of life and property on Bailey avenue, where nearly all the dead and injured were picked up.

Many handsome homes on Northwest street, in Jackson, and in the surrounding neighborhood were also wrecked. The National Refrigerator Company there suffered a loss of more than $30,000, according to a statement made by the local manager, C. H. Johnson.

GOODBYE TO WASHINGTON HIGHWAY

Col. Thatcher Writes That Another Route Will Likely Be Chosen on Account of Lack of Interest.

(Cynthiana Log Cabin)

Col. Chas. W. Thatcher, who was recently through this section driving a team of ponies hitched to a spring wagon of peculiar design, inspecting the roads with a view of routing the Washington Highway through this section will probably cause another route to be selected. Anyhow our roads will be just as good no matter whether they are called Dixie Highway, Washington Highway or just Harrison Highway.

Col. Thatcher has been having some big meetings at joints in the south and had suggested a meeting here, which should be attended by all interested persons along the route from Newport, via Falmouth, Cynthiana, Paris, Winchester, and Richmond. We do not know just what definite plan Col. Thatcher had in view but it did not seem possible to have a "monster" meeting here such as he suggested.

If there is anything tangible or definite suggested our city and county authorities will of course be glad to take it up and give it due consideration as doubtless will also the other points named.

City Manager Durbin, who has had some correspondence with Colonel Thatcher and invited him to come back on the date of the big farmers picnic, has received the following letter, written at Richmond, Ky.

Dear Sir:—

The duty I am about to perform is an exceedingly unpleasant one. You have such noble, warm hearted men in your city, and I am yet head over heels in admiration of them. This makes the task much more difficult.

A Washington Highway Inspector passed through your city a few days ago and he was horrified at the lack of interest and appreciation for this great Transcontinental Roadway which would make your city famous and distribute great wealth in your midst. On account of this lack of interest I am compelled to cancel my date in your city. I will go at once to investigate the route via Columbus, Ohio, Portsmouth, Ohio, Maysville, Ky., and Big Stone Gap, Virginia. You have lost one of the great opportunities of your life. All thru the east and north and west the Big Stone Gap Route will be boasted. It will be a great loss to you. Being a Southerner I always plead for the south.

I will give you another opportunity if possible this fall if a monster Congress is arranged. Wishing you much success. I remain,

Yours truly,
CHAS. W. THATCHER.

Belle of Maysville

The most wonderful whisky that ever drove the skeleton from a feast or painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and the shadow that chased each other over the billowy fields; the breath of June; the carol of the lark; the dew of night; the wealth of summer; and Autumn's rich content—all golden with imprisoned light.

Drink it, and you will hear the voices of men and maidens sing the "Harvest Home" mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it, and you will feel within your blood the star-lit dawns, the dreamy, tawny dusks of many perfect days. For many years this liquid joy has been confined within the happy staves of oak, longing to touch the lips of man.

Yours for, $3.00, $4.00 and $6.00 per gallon. Sold only by
